The Amherst College Public Health Collaborative invites you to an unprecedented PUBLIC HEALTH ALUMNI PANEL with the generous support of The Center for Community Engagement Harold Wade Jr. Memorial Fund Fellowships, Anthropology and Sociology Department Student Activities Office, Health Professions Program and Career Center Friday March 28, 2014 5:00 - 6:30 pm, O’Connor Commons (East Entrance, Charles Pratt Dormitory) 11 Amherst alumni working in various fields of public health will share their experiences and career paths in an informative panel discussion, to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the Amherst College Public Health Collaborative

Andrew Balder '75
Internist/Pediatrician, Baystate Medical Practices; Infant mortality prevention and community leader, Springfield, MA

Jamie Cohen '11
Master’s candidate, Harvard School of Public Health; Fulbright Scholar in South Africa; Co-founder and former president of Amherst College Public Health Collaborative

Josie Fisher '12
Research Assistant, Harvard School of Public Health - Health Policy/Management

Jessica Kronstadt '00
Director of Research and Evaluation, Public Health Accreditation Board, Washington DC

Halley Riley '08
Fellow, Division of Reproductive Health, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Atlanta, GA

Elizabeth Stemporzewski '08
Program Manager, American Liver Foundation, Newton, MA

Jeff Sternlieb '69
Psychologist, Lehigh Valley Family Practice; faculty member at a Family Medicine residency, Allentown, PA.

David Strogetz '75
Director, Center for Rural Community Health – Bassett Healthcare Network, Cooperstown, NY

Lori Thayer '81
Public Health Consultant, Portland, Maine

Frank Thompson '87
Manager of HIV Services for the Kansas City (Missouri) Health Department (KCHD)

Kim Wyche-Etheridge '87
Medical Director for Birthing Project USA; Maternal and child health leader, Nashville TN.

Light refreshments will be served